How the US President is Elected?

- Start with the Constitution. The basic process of selecting the President of the United States is spelled out in the U.S. Constitution, and it has been modified by the 12th, 22nd, and 23rd amendments. Many additional steps have been added over the years, by custom and by state law -- the process has changed quite a bit over time.
- Who Can Run? The President and Vice-President are elected every four years. They must be at least 35 years of age, they must be native-born citizens of the United States, and they must have been residents of the U.S. for at least 14 years. (Also, a person cannot be elected to a third term as President.)

The Seal of the President of the USA

- The seal of the President of the United States of America is based upon the Great Seal of the USA. The seal of the President of the United States of America is based upon the Great Seal of the USA. The Presidential seal pictures an American bald eagle holding a ribbon in its beak; the ribbon has the motto of the USA, "E PLURIBUS UNUM," meaning "Out of many, one." The eagle is clutching an olive branch (with 13 olives and 13 leaves) in one foot (symbolizing peace) and 13 arrows in the other (the 13 stands for the original 13 colonies and the arrows symbolize the acceptance of the need to go to war to protect the country).

The White House

The White House is the official residence of the President of the United States of America, and has been for over 200 years. It is located at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D.C., the capital city of the USA.

Across the country, there are many monuments and memorials dedicated to past presidents. Four major cities are named for presidents:

Lincoln, Nebraska, Jefferson City, Missouri, Jackson, Mississippi and Madison, Wisconsin.

The Washington Monument was built in memory of the first President of the USA. It looks like a very big pencil.

Abraham Lincoln was the sixteen president of the United States. Between the ages of 22 and 27 he was a storekeeper, a postmaster, and a surveyor. In 1836, he became a lawyer in Springfield, Illinois. In 1834, Lincoln was elected to the Illinois state legislature, where he served four two-year terms and the U.S. House of Representatives. In 1858, he served in the U.S. Senate in 1858. After much had been said about him, he began. He was the wartime leader who freed all slaves, in 1863. Later in the war, he was the site of a great, but costly, Union victory at the Battle of Gettysburg. He was shot by actor John Wilkes Booth in Washington, D.C., on April 4, 1865. Lincoln is considered one of America's greatest and most loved leaders.

John Adams, the second president, was the father of the sixth president, John Quincy Adams. Benjamin Harrison, the 23rd president, was the grandson of the ninth president, William H. Harrison. William H. Harrison served the shortest time in office of any of our presidents. Only one month after being elected, he died in office. The longest time served in office is held by Franklin Roosevelt. He was elected to four consecutive terms, and served slightly more than 12 years, before dying in office. Across the country, there are many monuments and memorials dedicated to past presidents: Lincoln, Nebraska, Jefferson City, Missouri, Jackson, Mississippi and Madison, Wisconsin.
