

How I spent my summer holidays

After a very difficult academic year, my vacation has come.

In June I was at home. I watched TV and surfed Internet.

You can see
what happene d with me
after that.

At the end of the month I went camping. And here my real summer vacations have begun! Our tents were in a real forest! It was a little scary to sleep at night.

I cannot tell you how difficult
to sleep in a tent.

While resting there was a lot of lack. Such as: mosquitoes, a hygiene problem, risk of catching cold and others.

The image is a composite of two photographs. The top-left portion shows a close-up of a lake with a light blue sky and dark tree branches in the foreground. The bottom-left portion shows a wider view of a lake with a winding dirt road and a green-roofed building. The right side of the image is a vertical strip showing a tall pine tree against a blue and pinkish sky. The text is overlaid in the center in a dark blue, sans-serif font.

But I forgot about it,
when I looked around.
This place was very beautiful! High pines,
sandy beaches, pure
water, the cloudy sky,
clean and fresh air.

Our camp was situated on the bank
of lake Vselug.
It is near Tver.

Every day I collected berries, went fishing, or boating. In our camp, we not only rested, but also worked. Every day we had different positions. Such as: Captain, cook, waterboy and chronicler.

After camping my sister and I visited our grandmother. My grandparents live in Tashkent.

This is their house

Oh, sorry!)))
Here it is .

My granny helped me to find the tennis trainer
and I took a great interest in this sport.

Oh! I'd mention: I also took a great interest in the trainer
too))))

This is a crazy cat of my granny. Her name is Dusya.
I hate it, because it always scratched me when I wanted to play with .
It seems, Grandma found her on the street, perhaps that is why she is so wild

Also I danced with my sister. Our teacher tells us: shake everything, that you shakes. And we, of course, did it with great pleasure!!! It was so funny!

We went clubbing, walked in parks, had fun. It was cheerful time.

I like my summer!
Very!
