Introduction

Everybody wants to live in a perfect house. I would like to tell you about the house of my dream. My favorite style is futuristic, so the interior should match it.

Bedroom

As for me, the most important room in the house is, of course, bedroom. Even ancient people thought that a healthy man is the man who sleeps enough.

Living room

Happy man is entertained man, so my living room should contain a big screen TV and a cozy sofa to relax after a hard day.

Dining room

The way to male's heart passes through his stomach, so every square inch of my dining room should be brilliantly perfect.

Bathroom

Conclusion

So, I don't want a huge three-storey mansion, but I want a comfortable house which I'll just feel happy to live in.
