

“GOOD” COUNTRIES

WHAT IS A GOOD COUNTRY AND HOW TO BECOME ONE

OUR PLAN

- What do people think a good country is
- Is Russia a good country or not
- Countries rating before and after Simon's definition
- Conclusion

WHAT IS A GOOD COUNTRY?

- According to Simon Anholt, a political analyst, “a good country is one that successfully contributes to the good of humanity”. In 2014 he made a Good Country Index, it’s official website says that “The Good Country Index is pretty simple: a measure of what each country on earth contributes to the common good of humanity”.

WHAT DO PEOPLE THINK A GOOD COUNTRY IS

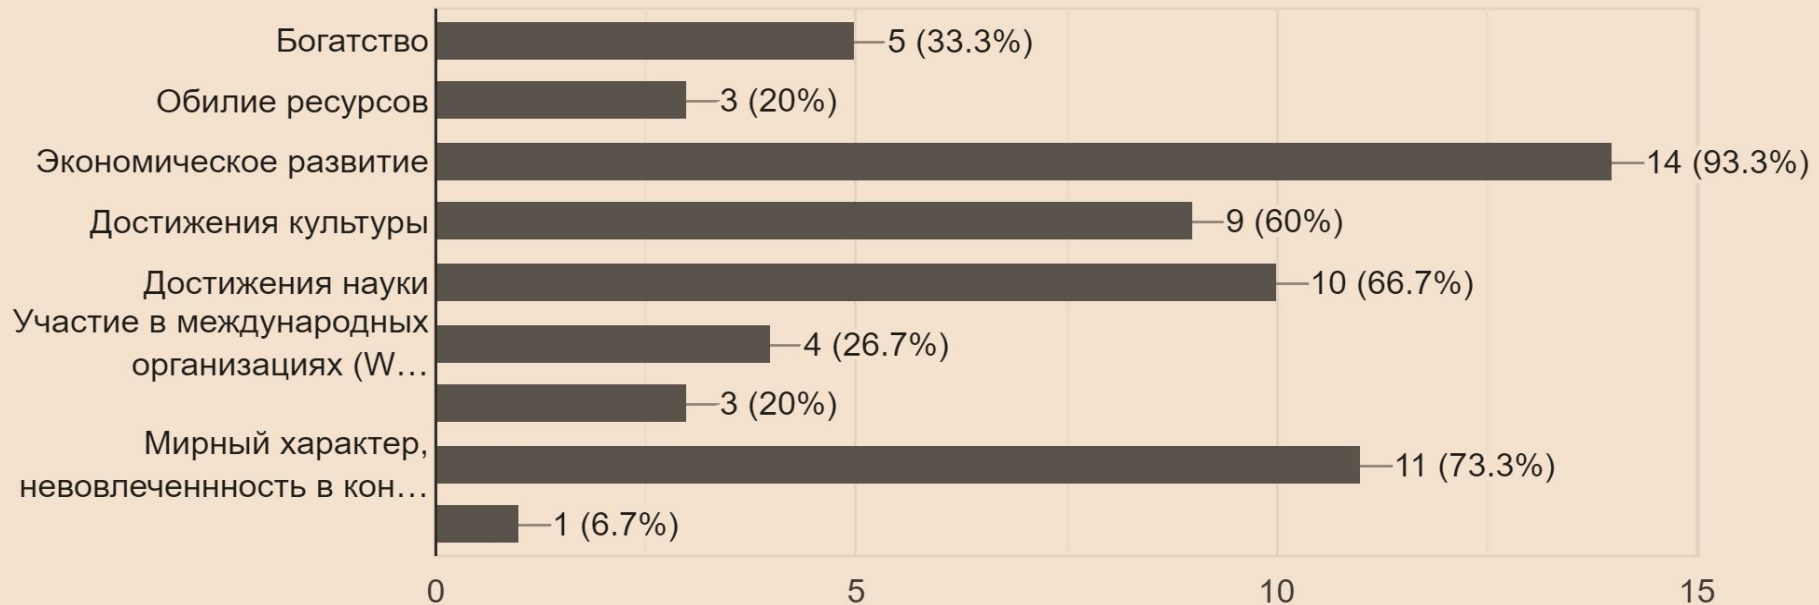

- A good country is a happy country, where people feel safe and respected, where the government cares about people. A good country is a comfortable and a peaceful one

IS RUSSIA A GOOD COUNTRY

• Well..it is!

AND “THE GOODDEST” COUNTRY IS...

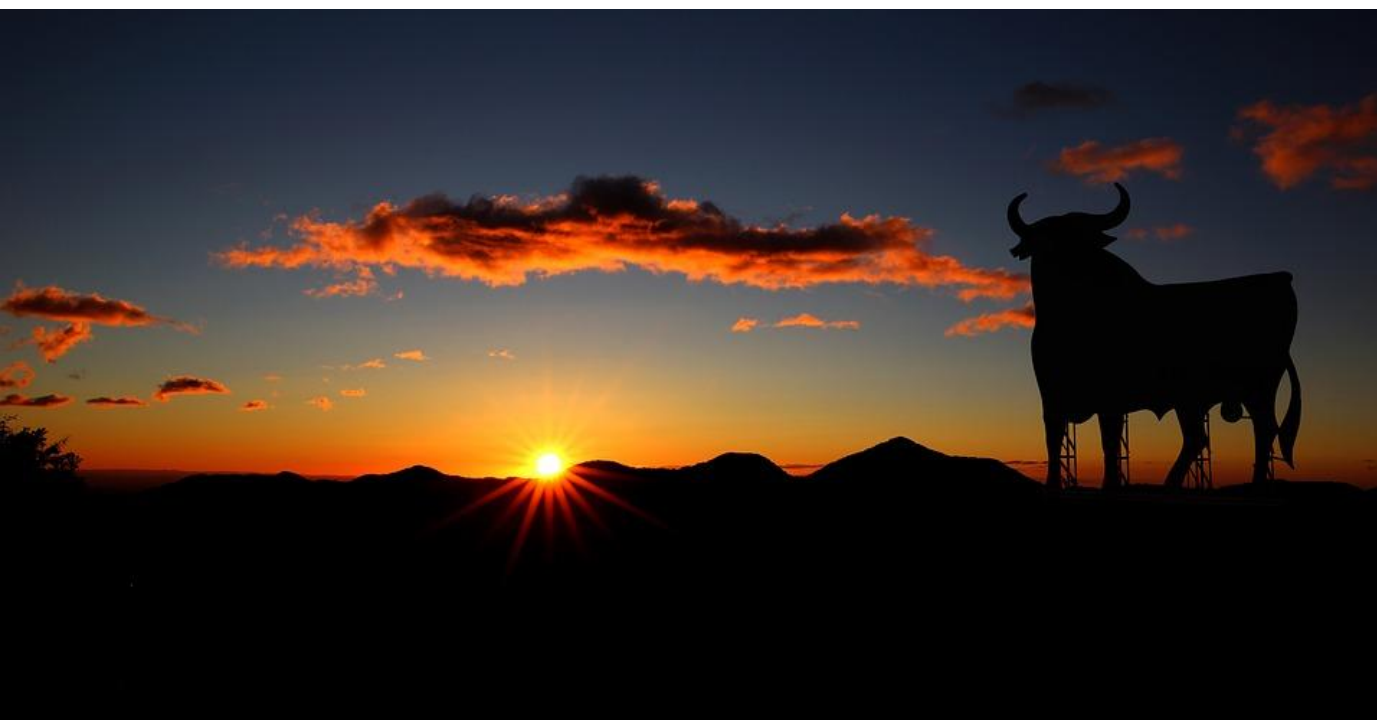

THE WORST COUNTRY IS CHINA

AND AGAIN “THE GOODEST” COUNTRY IS THE USA

AND THE WORST COUNTRIES ARE
AUSTRALIA, SPAIN AND..

RUSSIA

CONCLUSION

- A good country is considered the one which contributes to the planet, and to the human race, through their policies and behaviors. At the beginning of our survey the majority of our respondents described a good country almost the same. Nevertheless, the most important thing for a good country they decided to be economical development. Also, according to the results of the survey Russia is both a good country and a bad one. In fact, it takes one of the last places in The Good Country Index chart, but by being good ourselves we can try to make our own country better.
