

"Alau" is an ice palace of world rank.

Ice Palace "Alau" is a multifunctional sports center, providing integrated services for athletes and amateurs alike.

The heart of the Palace is the ice arena, which consists of a 400 meter ice track with stands for 8000 spectators

The Palace is intended for hosting training and competitions in these sports:

- ❖ Speed skating
- ❖ Short track
- ❖ Ice hockey
- ❖ Curling
- ❖ Figure skating

"Alau" is also took 6th place (out of 641) in world rating of speed skating stadiums.

Alau replaced the Medeo time of the 2011 Asian Games because Medea did not meet the requirements of the competition.

