- Franklin D. Roosevelt , commonly known as FDR, was born in Hyde Park.
- FDR served as President from March 1933 to April 1945, the longest tenure in American history and was the only president to be elected four times.
- Roosevelt led the United States through the Great Depression and Second World War.

A stylized, high-contrast American flag is visible in the background. The stars and stripes are rendered in a dark blue, bright red, and black color scheme, with a distressed, brush-stroke-like texture. The flag is oriented diagonally across the frame.

On December 8, 1941, the day after Japan bombed the U.S. naval base at Pearl Harbor, Roosevelt appeared before a joint session of Congress, which declared war on Japan. The first president to leave the country during wartime, Roosevelt spearheaded the alliance between countries combating the Axis, meeting frequently with Churchill and seeking to establish friendly relations with the Soviet Union and its leader, Joseph Stalin.

we have to fear
is fear itself.”

“If you treat
people right
they will treat
you right...
ninety percent
of the time.”

— Franklin D. Roosevelt
