

Customs and traditions of Kazakhstan and Great Britain

The people of Kazakhstan and the British like drinking tea

Remember how you drink your favorite tea, fruit or black with milk, and seized their favorite cookies. So, too, the British are so fond of doing. And we are, and they drink Indian tea and enjoy them. Tea for Kazakh and English - is not just a drink, help is not in suhomyatku biscuits and a drink for a warm conversation and pastime. Yes, and we also like to dunk biscuits in tea, just as they

We celebrate "Apple fest", and the British "Day of the apple."

The British have an apple festival, which they celebrate the same autumn, on 21 October. They also love to crunch apples, also breed new varieties, and also love to bake pies with apples, as we

Kazakhstani and British honor traditions

Respect for family traditions, respect for elders, and related gatherings for the holidays - it unites us! Kazakhs can safely go to the UK, its charter, they're surprised no one

The people of Kazakhstan and the British love meat

Who else in the world except us could boast a huge number of national meat dishes? It turned out that the British also love meat. Rump steak, steak, lamb with potatoes in Lancashire, Welsh lamb with sauce, cottage pie with meat, beef stew, and many more dishes! Maybe they should try our kazi?

The people of Kazakhstan and the British engaged in animal husbandry

United Kingdom, as well as Kazakhstan, engaged in breeding new breeds of sheep for a long time. We occupy a very prominent place among the sheep-breeding countries in Asia, Britain - in Europe. We even have a similar custom. Kazakhs planted and raised new Khan on the white rug, and the Lord Chancellor of the House of Lords since ancient times and is still sitting on a sack of wool

We love the same books

The British can read the words of edification Abai in English, and we can read the sonnets of Shakespeare in the Kazakh language. We Brits alike love Sherlock Holmes, Mr. Darcy, Harry Potter, Bilbo Baggins, our children, too, wanted to visit and see Nebylyandii Peter Pan, read about the adventures of Oliver Twist and Gulliver. We are much closer to each other than we think. Each of us on a bookshelf is a piece of British culture.

Kazakhstan and Britain - are multinational.

As in Kazakhstan, a multitude of people peacefully live in the UK, and even races. But none of Kazakhstan and the British are not able to oppress someone just for the color of the skin or belonging to a particular nation. This is our unity - we are for the peace of the world.

Kazakhstani and British - nomads

What do you think, why the UK is also multinational? Yes, because they have visited since ancient times all over the world. Wanderlust in their blood, in that they are like us. Where only did not the British, and in the New World, and in India, and in Asia and Latin America, and Australia. Yes they are the same nomads like us!

The people of Kazakhstan and the British like to dress elegantly
