

ORAL PRESENTSTION

- In Global Perspectives lesson we discuss global problems which are happening around us and we see from different perspectives and try to find solutions of these issues. However, it is turn-out not easy, because appearance of global problems depends on different countries. Therefore our solutions should take only benefits for many countries. To solve these problems we need more experiences and skills. So, GP lesson help us to develop our skills. In the second term we did more kind of activities. Now I'm going to explain how these activities develop our skills.
