

Who am I?

Hi, my name is Nastya...

- I'm 19 y.o.
- I live in Mitino - a nice, quiet neighborhood in the north-west of Moscow....

- With my mum, dad and younger brother
- We are all really close to each other, and I can say that I'm so lucky to have such a grate family. My parents are intelligent, educated people. They are quite young, and as a result not old-fashioned at all. Therefore they can support any conversation about modern pop culture, music, films and books. In fact, I believe that my brother and I inherited such a good taste exactly from them.

My extended family...

- Is large
- I have a great-grandmother, 7 grandparents, two uncles, 6 aunts and a cousins as well, and we all keep in thought.

Education

- I graduated from gymnasium N°1538 with a golden medal...
- ... and entered the Moscow State Pedagogical University at the graphic arts faculty because I see some kind of discrimination and disrespect for art teachers and art education in our country. So I believe in necessity to change that by teaching kids how to understand and like art.

My hobbies

- In the future, besides teaching, I would like to do book's illustrations, because I really like literature and creating images for different characters always was interesting to me.
- also like to write essays, open letters, scripts and reviews.
- I'm obsessed with movies, series and cartoons as pieces of art.

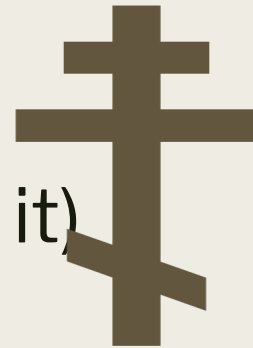

My lifestyle in 4 facts

1. I stand for recycling and saving the ecology

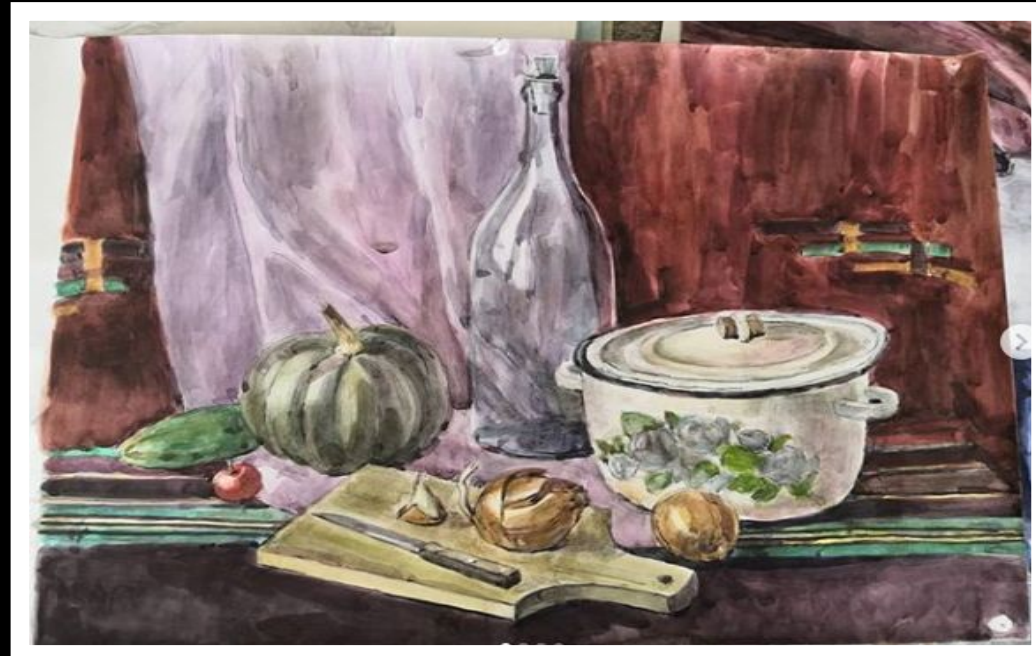

2. I like sport (running) and dances and do exercises 3 or 4 times a week

3. I'm Christian (and proud of it)

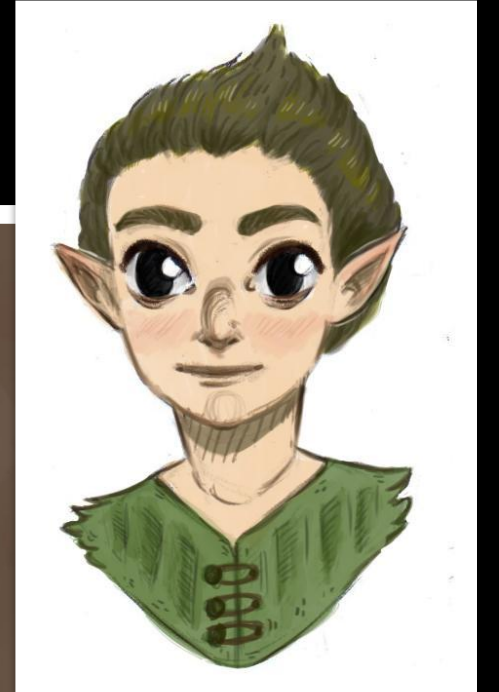

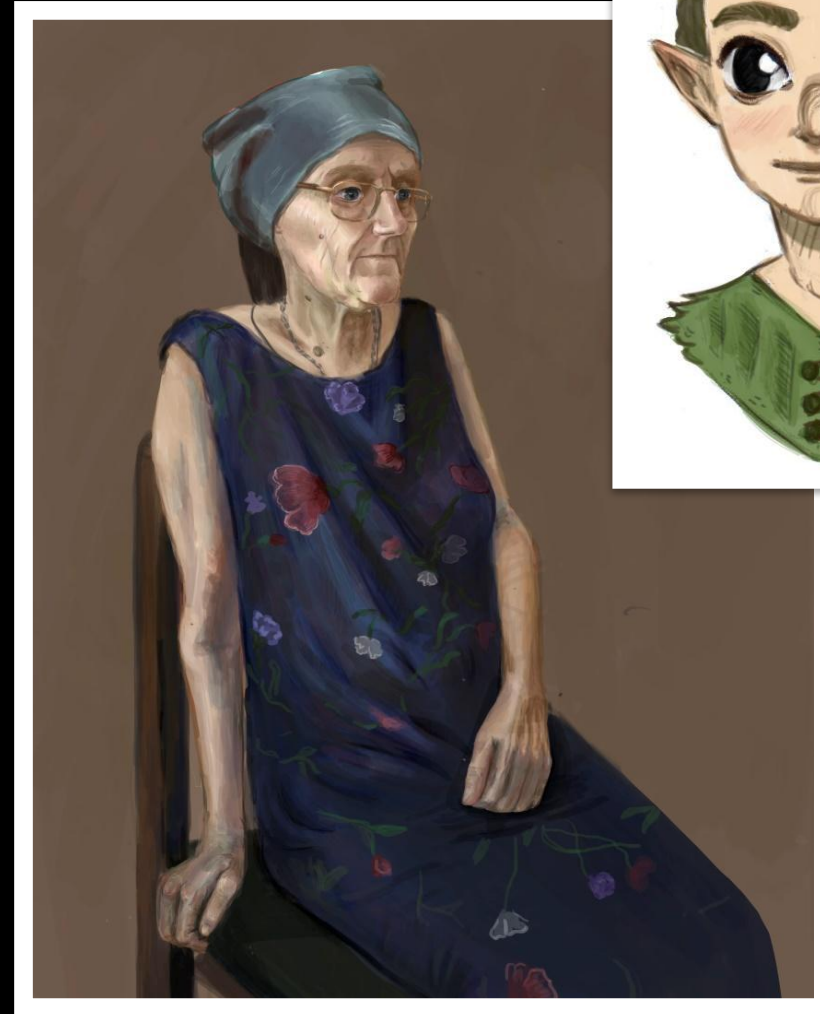

4. I am very slow, phlegmatic and absent-minded person

MY WO

MY WO

A dark night sky filled with numerous white stars of varying sizes and a single white comet streak. The stars are scattered across the frame, with some appearing as bright, large five-pointed stars and others as smaller, fainter dots. A single, thin white line representing a comet streak is visible in the upper right quadrant, curving downwards and to the left. The overall background is a deep black, creating a high-contrast scene.
