L2-Conclusion: Silly subjects, like biology or literature, steal my time. Also checking phone because of notifications.

Decluttering Your Routine and Ruthless Prioritization

Attending pointless meetings.

Ask boss if your presence is necessary.

Just say no.

Schedule something critical right after.

Random internet surfing.

Block websites where you waste time.

Set a timer for the web adventure.

Save articles for later.

Dealing with excessive email.	Set up filters on automated emails. Use machine learning on Gmail. Stop replying to emails when it's not needed.
Checking phone because of notifications.	Remove all notifications. Set phone to do-not-disturb during work hours. Put phone in a drawer/backpack.

L3-Conclusion: This Course wants to steal my leisure time! No series, no surfing Internet, no breaks, only work!

My secret conclusion: don't like this course, it didn't teach me, it is very depressive(((

A Perfect To-Do List

My To-Do list

- a) Geography

- c) Essay (about space)
- d) Math
- e) Physics
- f) Chemistry

L4-Conclusion:It was very interesting and useful. This course s OK.

Staying Focused— Pomodoro Technique

In 2013, the average person could focus on one task without being distracted for eight seconds. A goldfish has an attention span of nine seconds...

Scientists found about 82 percent of all interrupted work is resumed on the same day. But here's the bad news—it takes an average of 23 minutes and 15 seconds to get back to the task.”

The Pomodoro Technique

1

Decide on the task to be done.

2

Set the timer to 25 minutes.

3

Work on the task until the timer rings.

4

Take a short 5 minute break.

5

Take a 15-30 minute break.

repeat 4 times

L5-Conclusion: I make the big mistake! This course is perfect!
Pomodoro Technique is very simple and useful.

Getting the Routine Work Done

2 MINUTE RULE

Simplativity

L6-Conclusion: So helpful! So useful! Two minutes! I can't forget about something important, because It's already done!

L7-Conclusion: I knew about this technique, but it was interesting to read it, because sentences are simple that's why reading this lesson was pleasure

Staying Consistent

Your only job is to NOT break the chain.

L8-Conclusion: I like this technique, because it's interesting. When you have a big chain, you don't want to break it. You do it every day even you are a lazy-bones

Using Your “Gap Time” Wisely

- Learn something new
 - Plan your week/day
 - Work on a side project
 - Clean up your inbox
 - Help your team

L9-Conclusion: This lesson was interesting. And sometimes I really use it, but also think that we should give time for our brain to rest.
