

Baikal Enviromental wave

ecological organizations

Purposes and tasks

- understanding of environmental problems and search of their reasons
- informing population on environmental problems
- development of ecological education and ecological way of life
- creation of base for the solution of environmental problems

Areas of work

- protection of ecological human rights
- creation of access to ecological information
- publishing copyright
- video activity

- During existence "Wave" had had a set of contacts, including foreign. Ecologists from many countries of the world give her help.

Thank you for your attention!

Author: Baranova A.