ATTRACTIONS

- Great Britain, a country that at first glance is isolated from the rest of the world. An island state with its laws, traditions, customs, a special political system, but, nevertheless, this does not hinder it from developing at all, and not only in line with statehood, but also with culture. London, the largest city in the United Kingdom, became the capital of the English kingdom during the time of Henry I. The modern city is a conglomeration of sprawling and merged towns and villages, but its main historical centers are City, Tower and Westminster. And, of course, London is one of the cultural centers of Great Britain. Every year thousands of tourists visit him in order to see all of his beauty with his own eyes.

BUCKINGHAM PALACE

- Buckingham Palace is the official residence of Queen Elizabeth. It is located near Green Park. When the Queen is in the residence, the Royal Standard flies over Buckingham Palace.

- There are 775 rooms where members of the Royal family and their servants live. There are also rooms for guests. There are offices, on-site post and even swimming pool in the palace.

- Throughout the year right in front of Buckingham Palace the ceremony of the Changing of the Guard takes place, attracting a lot of tourists.

WESTMINSTER

- Westminster is a historical area of central London with several famous landmarks.

- Westminster Abbey, a Gothic church, is located there. The church is a traditional place of coronation and burial site for all British kings and queens.

- Not far from the church there is the Palace of Westminster which is the meeting place of the House of Commons and the House of Lords.

BIG BEN

- Big Ben is the name of the Great bell of the clock at the Palace of Westminster. Nowadays this name mostly refers to the clock and the clock tower.
- In 2012 the tower was renamed to celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of the Queen and is now officially known as the Elizabeth Tower.
- The height of the tower is 96,3 metres. Big Ben is one of the most prominent symbols of the United Kingdom.

STONEHENGE

- Stonehenge is a well-known prehistoric monument which is located in Wiltshire, England. Huge standing stones which are 4,1 metres long and 2,1 metres wide make a ring.

- The real purpose of this structure is still a subject of much controversy. It is believed that Stonehenge served as an ancient astronomical observatory.

- Stonehenge is added to the list of UNESCO World Heritage Sites.

EDINBURGH CASTLE

- Edinburgh Castle is an ancient fortress which is located right in the centre of Edinburgh.

- Edinburgh Castle is located on the Castle Rock, at the top of the Royal Mile.
- The castle has a very good strategic position and can only be easily approached from one side. Nowadays, Edinburgh Castle is one of Scotland's most popular tourist attractions.
