

The Wooden House

There stood a nice little house in the open field.

A mouse ran by.

-Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?

Nobody answered.
The mouse ran into the house and began to live there.

A frog hopped by.
-Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?
-I'm a mouse. Who are you?
-I'm a frog.
-Let's live together.
And the mouse and the frog began to live together.

A hare came by.
He saw the house
and asked:
-Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?
-I'm a mouse.
-I'm a frog. And who are you?
-I'm a hare.
-Let's live
together.
-And the three of them started living together.

-A fox ran by. She knocked on the window and asked:
-Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?
-I'm a mouse.
-I'm a frog.
-I'm a hare. Who are you?
-I'm a fox.
-Let's live together.
-And they began to live
together.

A wolf came by.
-Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?
-I'm a mouse.
-I'm a frog.
-I'm a hare.
-I'm a fox. Who are you?
-I'm a wolf.
-Let's live together.
-And the animals began to live together.

A bear came by. He saw the house and roared:
-Little house, little house! Who lives in the little house?

- I'm a mouse.
- I'm a frog.
- I'm a hare.
- I'm a fox.
- I'm a wolf. Who are you?
- I'm a bear.
- Let's live together.

The bear started climbing onto the roof and crushed the whole house.

And all the scared animals ran away in different directions.
