Climate Ireland - moderate sea. Breeze west coast of the island passes warm North Atlantic Current, which, together with the south-westerly winds from the Atlantic Ocean bring warm and moist air masses.

Winters are quite mild, and the summer - cool. The warmest month of the year - July, with an average temperature of 18-20 degrees. The coldest month - January, the temperature dipped to 7-9 degrees.

The average annual rainfall up to 1200 mm of rainfall, but their distribution in the territory irregularly. Maximum values are typical for the western part of the island, thanks to the influence of the sea, their number can reach 1600 mm. While in the east and in the central part of the country is celebrated around 800-1000 mm.

Ecological state.

- Historically, we have a situation where the Irish have never had a heavy and environmentally harmful industries. The only source of contamination present in the country - agricultural waste, which leads to contamination of sewage and river water in some areas of the country.
- The population of Ireland is the nature and environmental heritage of their country and take a lot of measures to reduce human impact on the ecological state of the environment: sorting and recycling, not using disposable bags in supermarkets, high taxes on environmentally unfriendly cars, and so on. If you throw garbage on the street, you have to charge a fine of 5 000 euro
