

UNIVERSITY OF BIRMINGHAM

- One of the largest and most prestigious universities in the UK and the world. Located in the central part of the city of Birmingham, England. Included in the elite group "Russell", and is also the main and oldest among the "red-brick universities" of the UK.

- The number of students exceeds 30 thousand people, and the main campus area is 330 hectares, thanks to which the University of Birmingham is the largest educational institution in central England.

- As of 2007, the University of Birmingham occupies 4th place in the ranking of the most sought-after university applicants in the UK with an average of 9 people per seat, despite the fact that there are no budget places in it, as in all UK universities. The university is among the top ten universities in the UK and in the TOP-100 in the world.

- Graduates from the University of Birmingham include 8 Nobel laureates and 2 British Prime Ministers.
