

A nighttime photograph of the Flamingo Las Vegas. The central focus is a tall, white, classical-style column topped with a bronze Winged Lion statue. The column is illuminated from below. In the background, the Flamingo Las Vegas building is brightly lit with warm yellow lights, showing its distinctive horizontal banding. The foreground shows a paved plaza with a decorative railing, a small fountain, and some blurred figures of people. The overall atmosphere is vibrant and festive.

Las Vegas – The City
Of Excitement

Las Vegas - a city in the south-western part of the United States and the largest city in the state of Nevada . Las Vegas is an internationally recognized center for entertainment and recreation, it is an unofficial capital of the world of gambling

The panorama of the city

Gambling was officially allowed in May 1931

Revenue from hotels including most of the world's largest, gambling, entertainment, and other tourist-oriented industries forms the backbone of the economy.

Mc.Carron International Airport

Luxor Casino and Hotel

The Eiffel Tower

Fremont Street Experience

Most of the major casinos are concentrated in the center of the pedestrian zone - Fremont Street Experience

Glitter Gulch

Glitter Gulch is a world famous area of night clubs

Fremont Street

Fremont Street is a heart of Las Vegas. Everything here has its initial experience

Hotel Bellagio

Dancing Fountains Bellagio.

Volcano

Volcano erupts fire and lava flows every 15 minutes

You can also get married in Las Vegas . The wedding ceremonies are fast and cheap

Grand Canyon

The Death Valley

... is famous for its moving stones

Zion National Park

