

Releasing a Bear

Another Failure of Worst-Case-Scenario Planning

Here's a good spot

So far, so good

He's glad to get out of that cage

Not that direction!

Here's where the adrenalin starts to go into high production

A big bear passes the climbing test

What is the passenger thinking at this point?

Darn, I knew I should have climbed into that cage after he got out

This could have been a lot worse

Next stop for the bear?
