Reflection

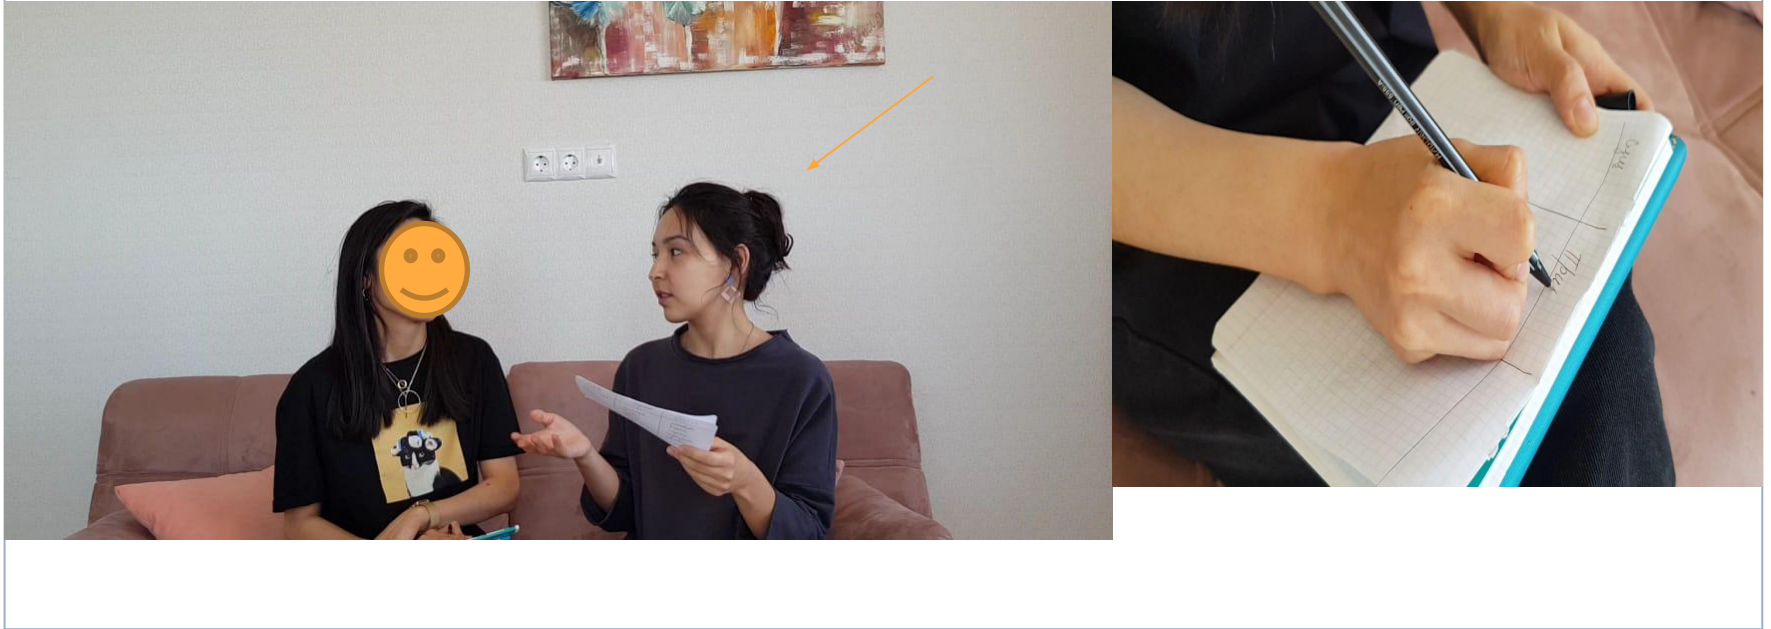

I was surprised about how people who was never had any connection with art was thinking about art so deeply and clearly.

Extensions (Optional)

If I will extend the thinking that came from the routine into another assignment or activity, I can use it in my course of oratorical skills. I would ask these students more open-ended questions, I will try to make them think deeper

Pictures of Practice (Optional)

My friend didn't let me show her face

Congratulations!
