

"Friends for life"

A friend is a person who is always there if you need some help, so, you can absolutely
rely on her or him.

I guess I have some best friends.
But today I'm going to tell you about one of them. Her name is Lena and here's a picture of her.
She is very kind, sympathetic,
she is ready to help you if you need a hand and, besides, she is fun to be around. She enjoys playing the piano and watching horror films.

Lena and I have known each other since we were in the first form. Surely, that day stuck in my head. Lena's first phrase addressed to me was "Hey, girlie, look, your balloon is going to blow off!" That was the beginning of our friendship. I hope we will be friends after finishing school and I'll do my best not to lose this friendship in the future.

One day we had an adventure which tested our friendship. We had just finished the third form and my parents bought me a bicycle as a present. Lena and I were cycling near my granny's house. Suddenly I decided to show some tricks despite I couldn't do any of them. Thus, I fell down as a result. Lena didn't let me down. She took our bikes and led me to my granny to treat my wound.

I think the story ended not so bad as it could be. The wound healed with the lapse of time. Lena showed all the best qualities which every soulmate should have: willingness to help, reliability.

To my mind, this story confirms that "a friend in need is a friend indeed".
