

THE MOST UNUSUAL PROFESSIONS

By Alexey Kuzyakin
Group - 1SA1

Master of pedicure for cows

These are specialists who follow the hooves of cows. In Europe and America, special teams of professionals monitor hooves on elite farms. Experts say that poor condition of hooves can badly affect the quantity and quality of milk, as well as the reproductive function of cows.

Ball Picker

The responsibility of the pick-up is the selection of balls during the game of golf, throughout the playing field and adjacent areas. Sometimes there are incidents, when the ball flies into inaccessible places, and the player wants to hit this ball.

Furniture tester

This person experiences furniture, beds, chairs, chairs for strength, comfort and convenience.

Ants breeder

There are special ant farms, where ants are bred for medicine. The breeder finds in nature the best specimens for breeding.

Smoother wrinkle

Such a profession is needed in shoe stores, its responsibilities are alignment of folds on shoes, shoes, and other shoes.

Eggs Destroyer

This person at a confectionery factory separates egg yolks from proteins. The process on which machines are simply incapable - only a person can rightly and qualitatively break the egg, and separate the yolk from the protein.

Specialist in determining the sex of chickens

Such a person separates future males from females every day. Here you have to do everything manually, until the process can be automated. But the definition of the future sex is a very important process that allows you to separate the chickens that follow one farm from the males that follow the other farm.

Inspector of quality of dice

Even the slightest, microscopic flaw in the structure of the dice can distort the results of the game and bring somebody an unreasonable fortune. As a result, quality controllers who carefully examine cubes for physical or geometric defects and are always in demand by serious manufacturers.

Guide to Toilets

This person is a civil servant in Japan.
He helps everyone who wants to find the nearest toilet in the city.
The services of such a guide cost about 4 cents.

Listeners

On the streets of Tokyo, you can meet people with signs "I'm listening to you." For a small fee they are ready to just listen, nod, smile, and sometimes even laugh. The only negative - these listeners do not give advice. But customers can be sure that their experiences are not recognized by third parties.

It is quite easy to find such a specialist. Booths with listeners are located in the busiest areas of the city.

Water slides tester

The worker checks the quality and comfort of the slide, which are in the water park, and makes notes about their feelings.

Hunter of the airport

This profession is available at the airport in Zurich.
These workers catch birds and animals that escaped from passengers.