Swaziland

Made by Anastasia Panchuk

The Kingdom of Swaziland - a country in South Africa.

It offers a wide variety of natural landscapes, from the mountainous areas along the border with Mozambique to the east of the savannah and rainforest in the northwest. On the territory of the country occur several rivers, including the largest river in Swaziland - Lusutfu river.

The official capital of the country - Mbabane (67 200 inhabitants), the historical capital and residence of the Queen Mother and the

The three-stage relief of the country correspond to the three major climatic zones. Moderately warm climate of the mountain type is replaced by lower subtropical and finally rain in Nizhny Velde. Precipitation falls over the summer in

75% of the country's labor force is employed in agriculture. In the country grow sugar cane, cotton, corn, tobacco, rice, citrus, pineapples, sorghum, peanuts, and also engaged in cattle

- The bulk of the population is Swazi, as well as a small number of Zulus, Europeans and immigrants from Mozambique.
- The annual population growth 1.2%.
- Fertility 27, 1000 (the infant mortality rate 67 per 1,000);
- Mortality 15, 1000;
- Life expectancy 48 years.
- Official languages English and Swati.
- Urban population 25%.
- Literacy 82%.

Age categories:

0-14 years - 46% 15-64 years - 52% 65 years and older - 2%

Opposite the country is missing. There are flights on small planes for groups of tourists. Bus service in the country is developed not very good. Large buses are different congestion and slowness of movement. Tourists are recommended to travel by mini-beads. They can get almost anywhere in the country. A ticket for this type of transport is very cheap. For 3$-4$, you can cross the entire country. Rail of cargo and iron ore from neighboring

The length of roads in Swaziland is about 3.8 thousand. Km.

- The head of state the king, since 1986 Mswati III. In the hands of the king concentrated executive power. He has the right to appoint the prime minister and a number of its representatives in each of the Houses of Parliament. The supreme legislative body is a bicameral parliament. The parliament has no real legislative power and in fact is an advisory body to the king. At least 30% of the seats in the House of Assembly should be women.
- The main supplier of products to the country South Africa (90%).
- Part of an international organization ACP countries.

This is a King of Swazilend – Mswati III

 Tourist attraction is the traditional reed dance (Umhlanga) - annual mass holiday in Swaziland.

- The main religion in Swaziland Christianity (82.7% of the population), in which various Protestant and indigenous African churches, including African Zionist, constitute the majority, there are also a significant number of Roman Catholics.
- Other religions include Islam, Baha'i, Hinduism.
- Swaziland is a country with the highest percentage of people infected with the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV). Every fourth adult citizen of the country is a carrier of the virus..

Thanks you for your attention.

Made by Anastasia Panchuk.