Finland	70%
Germany	56%
France	39%
Spain	22%
Russia	5%

Example

- Outline a problem that can arise with the knowledge of English and suggest a way of solving it.
In my opinion, the statistics in the table reveal an important problem. We can see that the people in Russia do not speak English fluently. It means that they cannot help foreigners who visit our country and have difficulties in understanding people abroad. I suppose that in order to solve this problem we should change the system of teaching English at schools. All school children ought to have 5 lessons of English a week and take an exam in English at the end of Years 9 and 11.

After-school activity	Number of teenagers (%)
