It is neither large nor small. It stands at the bank of the great Russian river Volga.

Wonderful nature and interesting history of our country attracts citizens from different places of Russia.

The History of Zarechny.

The settlement of Zarechny was dated to 1905 when the rich man A.V. Konstantinov founded the textile factory on the left side of the Volga. The factory began to work in 1907 and is still working nowadays. Fabric, linen and clothes are produced here. Around the settlement there were many small villages, some of them disappeared.

The Disappearing Village

During the great soviet reconstructions on the river Volga the whole village of Zyablovo (1903) was drown in 1950s. Twenty houses were underwatered so people had to move in Zarechny. They could remove some houses and built the new street named Shirockaya which made our village bigger. We were at the place of Zyablovo and made some photos how it looks like now.

Zarechy and the Great Patriotic War.

A lot of lived and still living people in the village took part in the war of 1941-1945. Our school society takes care of our veterans and helps them. School-children volunteer at veterans' homes. You can see their names on the memorial monument.

A corner of memory.

It was made in honour to the soviet soldier, Alexey Karpychev.

He was lost during the international war in Afghanistan. People honoured him to name the street in his native village. You can see his photos, his letters to his parents from the war, his military uniform, his parent's house where he spent his childhood in school museum. You can read the document from the army about posthumous award.

Cheganovskay school is one of the oldest school in our Zavolzhsky District

It worked during the war, the first pupils' and the teachers' textbooks and copybooks are in our museum . Many of our grandparents learned there.

Our school.

We are proud of our school because it was one of the winners in 2006 “The best schools in Russia” Our school is famous for the museum. There are many interesting things to see and to learn. The museum was organized by the teacher of History-G.G. Turkina and our historical society “the Sparks of Memory” in 2009. Many objects which we see here were brought by our schoolchildren; some of them were presents from country people. Here you can see some mobile exhibitions and students’ research works. Our museum is divided into three parts.
