1. Введение

Several international languages are used in the world to communicate with people of different nationalities and from different countries. Among them, English has gained the most popularity and not by chance. After all, English is not just a language spoken in the US and the UK. Firstly, you can add Ireland, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, many African countries and individual Asian states here.

English has been defined as the language for negotiations in international organizations such as the UN General Assembly, the European Security Union, UNESCO, NATO, the European Union and the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC).

2.Актуальность проекта

Today, many people watch TV. And what if you combine business with pleasure. According to observations, many of those who speak a foreign language perfectly, without being native speakers, watch TV series in the original language. Of the foreigners, residents of Scandinavia and the Netherlands speak English the best in the world - almost at the level of native speakers from the UK, USA, Australia and other English-speaking countries.

The more you practice watching movies in English, the better you will know the language. Gradually, you can switch to watching TV shows with English subtitles and, ultimately, without subtitles at all. Everyone has their own goal for learning English. Someone needs a language to move to another country, someone in order to get a desired job, someone just for traveling or reading literature in the original language.

3. Приёмы изучения английского языка

1. Watching movies and TV series in the original will be a good motivator, because you can watch fascinating videos in between monotonous grammar exercises and cramming.
2. While watching the movie, you listen to how live coherent speech sounds, with what intonation the actors talk, where they make logical pauses and accents.
3. It happens that it is quite difficult for a person to get used to the sound of unfamiliar speech and even familiar words are not caught by ear. Then it makes sense to resort to subtitles.
4. If you want not just to have fun, but to benefit from viewing, work with a dictionary. When you encounter an unfamiliar word, stop the video, open the dictionary and write yourself a whole sentence with a new vocabulary and a translation to it.

As a result of the work on the project, the material on learning a foreign language was collected and systematized with the help of videos and TV series in English. Various sources of information were studied, such as newspaper publications, books, and the Internet.

We found out that learning a foreign language can take place with ease and pleasure. I have considered such a method as "Learning a language through watching movies". Thanks to him, students can not make much effort to memorize words. They will be remembered by themselves, on a subconscious level, and will be applied in practice in the future.

Thus, I came to the conclusion that learning English through watching movies and TV shows is effective.
