

The profession of Locomotive Driver

Locomotive Driver

Train Driver (Locomotive Driver) - is a railroader who operates passenger and freight trains and electric trains of various connections and purposes.

Features of the profession

The Locomotive Driver must drive the train exactly according to the schedule, take into account specific warning signals on the runs, monitor the traffic lights, the indications of instrumentation. Also work under conditions of increased moral responsibility for life and health of people.

Knowledge & Skills

- operate, maintain and repair rolling stock in accordance with the requirements of regulations and safety.
- organize the work of the production team in compliance with life safety and environmental protection.
- work with normative and legal documents, design and technological documentation.
- rules of maintenance, acceptance, order of delivery and inspection, classification of types of repair and inspection of diesel locomotives, their characteristics.
- carry out the work provided by the maintenance systems and preventive maintenance; determine the volume and quality performance of the production area.

State of health

The medical committee will assess blood, eyes, posture (negative to the presence of surgical intervention in the body), heart, hearing, and nerves. Certificates from the narcologist and from the psychiatric clinic are mandatory.

Personal qualities

- acumen;
- caution;
- observation;
- circumspection;
- vigilance;
- determination;
- poise;
- discipline;
- organization;
- responsibility;
- self-control.

Electric Locomotive Driver
trainer EP1M (ЭП1М)

Women in this profession

“It is believed that a woman has no place in the cab of a locomotive. However, during the years of testing, during the war years, it was women who worked on the railway transport, working in the cab of the engine with double, if not triple force.”

Salary

Salary of train driver (locomotive driver) for December 2021.

Moscow - 33650-83000p

Russia - 35000-100000p

However, the base salary is indexed according to the severity of the tasks performed.

Railwaymen's Day is celebrated on the first Sunday in August and was established back in 1896, then it was timed to the birthday of Emperor Nicholas I, who began building the railroads.

С Днем железнодорожника!

End of presentation

Ilya Prottsenko 020 group

“Locomotive Driver”

REGIONAL STATE BUDGETARY EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION

VOCATIONAL EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION

“College of Mechanical Engineering and Transport”

r. Vladivostok