

OLEXA
LOGOVENKO UKRAINIAN TRANSLATER

The biggest achievement considers the translation book by J.Salinger "Catcher in the rye."

-
- A black and white photograph of a middle-aged man with glasses, looking slightly to the left. He is wearing a dark sweater over a collared shirt. The background is a blurred bookshelf filled with books.
- In 1993 became a laureate of the literary prize named after Nicholas Lukas.
 - In 2003 he became the winner of the literary prize of the Federal Chancellery of the Republic of Austria/
 - In 2003 he became the laureate of the award named after Maxim Rylsky for artistic translations of works by foreign authors.