

What do you know about Russian Easter?

This is an oldest Christian celebration, dedicated to the Jesus revival

Easter is always celebrated on Sunday, but the date of Easter in each particular year is calculated according to the lunisolar calendar, which makes Easter a turning holiday, usually it celebrates at the period from April, 4th to May, 8th

The inherent attributes of the Easter table are: cakes, curd easters and colored eggs. Although the eggs are painted in different colors, the traditional is red, as the color of life and victory. Easter eggs give each other as a symbol of a new life. One of the main delicacies of the traditional table is the Easter cake prepared from sweet dough and raisins and decorated with glaze. The people consider that if the cake was successful, then everything will be all right in the house. Curd easters, along with cakes, is considered the main dish of the festive Easter table. Traditionally, Easter is made in the form of a pyramid and symbolizes the place of the crucifixion and death of Christ

Haval Easter Team-building

On Friday, April the 6th, there was organized the team-building event for HMMR employees, confined to Easter celebration. After the short presentation of Russian Easter traditions, all employees were divided into teams to participate in 3 stages of Easter dishes Manufacturing process:

1. Stamping – preparation of curd easters by stamping using the special forms
2. Painting – painting and decoration of boiled eggs
3. Assembly – assembling the Easter composition, using prepared curd easters, painted eggs, cakes and other decorations

Each team got a reward in different nominations. After the team-building activities, there was a small banquet for all employees with traditional Easter food.
