War Rooms

This is headquarters where Winston Churchill worked. This bunker was built in 1939. Cabinet meetings were held here. Here issues related to the war were resolved.

The bunker was poorly protected, as it was located at a depth of 5 meters. Churchill was indignant and in 1940 the bunker was reinforced.

Interesting exhibits

Inside the museum there is a labyrinth of rooms where people lived and worked during the war. The largest room is the Assembly Hall, where ministers and generals gathered. At the head of the table is Churchill's chair. Also there are many personal things of Churchill. In some rooms of the museum, mannequins imitate the activities of typists and cryptographers.

The museum is located in the city center. Address: Clive Steps, King Charles Street.
