

A black and white photograph capturing a poignant moment during the Great Patriotic War. In the foreground, a young soldier in a military uniform with a star on his chest looks towards the right. Behind him, another soldier is partially visible. To the right, a woman in a patterned dress holds a large bouquet of daisies. A third soldier, wearing a peaked cap, is seen from the side, looking down at the woman. The background shows a cloudy sky. The text 'Великая Отечественная война' is overlaid in white, bold, sans-serif font across the upper half of the image.
