From Spain to Outer Space!

Imagine the scene – you're on holiday, and you're looking out of the hotel window at an amazing view: planet Earth! Soon, this idea might not be science fiction. A company in Barcelona has got plans for the world's first space hotel. According to the director, Xavier Claramunt, the Galactic Suite hotel is not just fantasy – it's going to open, and soon. Six lucky millionaires will have the opportunity to be the first guests. This will be the most expensive hotel in the galaxy – $4 million for a three-day holiday!

Guests will get into a spaceship on the ground which will bring them up to the space hotel, in orbit around the Earth. Then they'll go round the Earth every 80 minutes, and see 15 sunrises every day. They won't be able to walk around – they'll wear special micro suits, and climb up the walls like Spiderman. They won't be able to have a bath until they get home, and using the toilet in zero gravity will be quite a challenge!

But how many people are going to have enough money to visit the Galactic Suite? About 40 000 people in the world are rich enough, but they won't all want to go.

Claramunt insists that it's the holiday of a lifetime. The price includes an eight-week training course on a tropical island, where galactic tourists will learn everything they need to know. That'll be more luxurious than life with zero gravity!

Barcelona is not the only contender in the race for space tourism. Russian, British and American companies are also going to offer space tourism before the end of the decade. And it might not be a reality by 2020, but perhaps one day Mars will be more popular than spa resorts!

6 Read the text again. Put these events in the correct order.

- 1 The tourists travel into space.
- 2 They return to Earth.
- 3 They get into a spaceship.
- 4 The tourists go on a training course.

7 Are the sentences true or false? Find evidence in the text.

- 1 The Galactic Suite hotel is going to open soon.
- 2 It won't be expensive to visit the Galactic Suite hotel.
- 3 It will take a day for the space hotel to travel round the Earth.
- 4 Visitors can wear their own clothes in space.
- 5 The price of the holiday includes eight weeks on a tropical island.
- 6 All the European countries are planning to have space hotels in the future.

8 Your voice Work in pairs. Ask and answer the questions.

- 1 Do you think there will be space hotels soon?
- 2 Would you like to be a space tourist?
- 3 What else could you do with $4 million?
- 4 In your opinion, will humans colonize other planets in the future?

WILL

● Future Simple

1) предсказание о будущем, основанное на чем-то, указывающем на то, что это событие случится

- Look! It will rain. The sky is overcast.

2) факты и утверждения о будущем

- She will be 20 next month.

3) решение, принятое в момент говорения

- O.K. I think, I will help you.

I will – I'll will not – won't
